

NeuStar Announces Departure of CFO at End of March and Appointment of Interim CFO

Jan 15, 2009

NeuStar announced that Jeffrey A. Babka, the company's senior vice president and chief financial officer, will leave the company to become chief financial officer of Sophos Plc, a world leader in IT security and data protection. Although Mr. Babka will immediately step down as NeuStar's chief financial officer, he will remain with the company through the end of March, supporting year-end financial reporting activities and other financial and organizational issues.

NeuStar's board of directors has appointed Paul S. Lalljie, the company's vice president and treasurer, as senior vice president and interim chief financial officer reporting to the chairman and chief executive officer, Jeff Ganek.
