

NeuStar Appoints Eric Burger as Chief Technology Officer

Jun 1, 2009

Jeffrey Ganek, chairman and chief executive officer of NeuStar, Inc. announces the appointment of Eric Burger to the position of chief technology officer. Burger will be responsible for setting

NeuStar's forward-looking technology and service strategy, and devising the architecture to help strengthen the company's position by developing new services and solutions. He also will oversee the early stages of new technology development, and will work closely with NeuStar's

Operations team to drive the successful launch and commercialization of future IP services.