

GameStreamer Launches New Service with Neustar

Aug 3, 2009

Neustar announced that GameStreamer, a leading enterprise-class B2B game store provider for digital distribution of and streaming solutions for PC-based casual and core video games, successfully launched its Software as a Service (SaaS) solution with the support of Neustar's robust platform of Internet infrastructure services, which includes load testing, performance monitoring and managed DNS services.